Summit Journal is the official, award-winning publication of AFIRE, the association for international real estate investors focused on commercial property in the United States. Readers stand at the intersection of real estate, finance, institutional investing, data science, and economics.

Published three times per year in digital and print formats, AFIRE’s Summit Journal features articles and original ideas and research from investors, executive leaders, and academics from around the world, focused on the research and analysis of real estate capital markets, cross-border issues, policy, demographics, technology trends, and management topics.

Summit is a free, open access trade journal.
As the official publication of AFIRE, the readers of Summit Journal begin with the association’s core membership, which includes around 180 member organizations (institutional investors, investment managers, professional services) from 25 countries, with approximately $3 trillion AUM.

10,000+ READERS
25 COUNTRIES
$3 TRILLION AUM

As Summit has increased its variety of content, design, and multimedia approach to accessibility, readership has continued to grow and expand into an increasingly diverse range of executive business leaders, real estate groups, higher education institutions, commercial developers, service agencies, and general interest readers.

SPONSORSHIP

Summit Journal sponsors unlock the highest visibility and duration of all AFIRE sponsorships.

Each issue of Summit accepts a single sponsor, ensuring sole visibility for that sponsor across the AFIRE platform for the sponsorship duration.

Benefits include branding on print and digital issues of the journal, the AFIRE website, the AFIRE Global mobile app, adjacent member events, social media, and more. Based on the Summit Journal release process, this equates to four months of proactive visibility, followed by branding in perpetuity for the sponsored issue.

SUMMIT RELEASE AND SPONSORSHIP PROCESS:

- JOURNAL RELEASED (UNDERWRITER BRANDED)
- INTERNATIONAL PR/PUBLICITY OUTREACH
- VIDEO TRAILER AND SOCIAL MEDIA PROMOTION

AFIRE offers member firms and other organizations the opportunity to license issues of Summit Journal for branding, sharing, and distribution among their own networks.

This opportunity is especially suited for small and mid-sized firms and HNW/family offices that may not have the resources of a full marketing department, but want to provide unique, high-value, globally-minded thought leadership for their clients and partners.

Licensed issues of Summit feature licensee branding on the front and back covers, as well as a special two-page insert for the licensee to provide their own letter, article, or other content. Licensees can distribute licensed issues in print and digital formats.

COST

- $10,000 SINGLE ISSUE
  - UNLIMITED/ NON-EXCLUSIVE*

- $30,000 FULL YEAR
  - UNLIMITED/ NON-EXCLUSIVE*

* Licensing agreements are administered by AFIRE. Any number of prospective licensees can apply to license an issue of Summit Journal for distribution within their networks. However, AFIRE may limit the licenses available for a given issue of Summit if it is determined that the networks or regions covered by prospective licensees are too similar (i.e., first come, first served).
SUBMISSIONS

Summit Journal seeks original articles, research, and critical analysis of real estate capital markets, cross-border issues, policy, economics, technology, and management from contributors involved in any aspect of the real estate industry.

Articles must be written in English and be around 1,500-2,000 words in length, though there are exceptions for white papers and other long-form research. Citations and endnotes are encouraged.

Summit encourages the use of graphics, charts, and tables. The editors assume that the contributor owns the right to have the graphics reproduced. Such assets should be sent as separate, standalone files (not embedded within Word documents), and can be presented as EPS, TIFF, JPG, PNG, PSD, or AI files. When able, please also provide raw data for charts and tables.

The editors reserve the right to edit all article content to ensure compliance with these guidelines.

Summit Journal generally complies with the latest editorial and citation standards set by the Chicago Manual of Style.

ADVERTISING AND SELF-PROMOTION
Summit does not accept advertising or self-promoting content. Authors must limit self-referential or self-promoting language and avoid promotional references to platforms, tools, or business entities. First-person [I/we/us] should be used sparingly, if at all.

CITATIONS
All data and quotations, when sourced from third-party websites or resources, must include an accompanying citation. Citations are printed as endnotes for each article.

DISCLOSURE/DISCLAIMER STATEMENTS
All articles published by Summit are covered by the AFIRE disclaimer statement (above). The editors reserve the right to remove any proprietary disclosure and disclaimer statements.

HEADLINES AND DESIGN
The editors reserve full creative control over all headlines, sub-headlines, pull quotes, editorial ephemera, and final article design.
Summit Journal is committed to full “open access.” All articles are available to all readers immediately upon publication (without registration on the site and embargo period).

The benefits of the open access include increased citation, rapid publication, faster impact with permissive licenses, and copyright retention by the author.

Summit Journal utilizes a transparent peer-review process, where, if the article is published, the reviewer comments are published online alongside the article, in accordance with the journal’s open access, ethics, and other policies. Summit’s implementation of a transparent peer review process is an extension of the journal and the association’s ethics policies and house rules to promote transparency and accessibility.

Manuscripts are assessed by the editorial team editors. All published articles are peer-reviewed. Overall editorial responsibility for the journal is with the editors, with editorial board members acting as reviewers.

All manuscripts submitted to Summit Journal are subject to the journal’s transparent peer review process.

AFIRE and Summit Journal recognize the need for scrupulousness and adherence to the best publishing practices and principles of publication ethics (COPE). Therefore, all processes related to the review and publication of articles shall be as clear and transparent as possible.

Before reviewing the manuscript, reviewers shall understand the peer review process of the journal. All reviewers shall follow and apply “A Short Guide to Ethical Editing for New Editors” developed by COPE.

If there are circumstances, facts, or actions that may affect the transparency of the article assessment, the reviewer should refuse to review the manuscript. If there is a potential conflict of interest, the reviewer should report this to the editors. Editors of the journal retain authority for determining articles that do or do not get published. The editors of the journal cannot submit their own articles to the peer review process for this journal.

Reviewers and editors should act in the interests of the journal and make decisions based on the reliability of the work reliability and its importance for the reader. Editors shall not use information obtained when working with manuscripts for private gain.

The publisher of Summit is not engaged in providing tax, accounting, or legal advice through this publication. No content published in Summit is to be construed as a recommendation to buy or sell any asset. Some information included in Summit has been obtained from third-party sources considered to be reliable, though the publisher is not responsible for guaranteeing the accuracy of third-party information. The opinions expressed in Summit are those of its respective contributors and sources and do not necessarily reflect those of the publisher.
